1. LATEST DOWNLOAD - ANOTHER SEANOTES MINI

Teachers, parents, home schoolers -
"I Need A Tissue Quick!" - the title of our latest SeaNotes
Mini...With Music package, is now available online.

Enabling kids in their own personal care is the goal of this new Mini. The activities and a brand new song teach the concept of everyday germs - and how to avoid them!

Deb Scala's curriculum targets the pre-K to second grade age group.
(She draws some pretty cool pictures, too!)

You can read more about it, listen to a demo of the song and purchase it from here:

<http://www.foxglovemusicpress.com/minitissue.com>

$2.95 will get you both the curriculum booklet and music track in one bundle!

2. COOL FREE SOFTWARE

We get several newsletters and music business tips from many different sources. One of them directed me to OpenOffice.org which has a software package much like Microsoft Office.

The package includes a word processing program, database, spreadsheet, publishing and a couple of other programs that I'm not quite sure what to do with. And it's FREE - made available under a GNU license - which basically means, well, FREE.

I used the OpenOffice Draw program (which is like MS Publisher) to layout the latest SeaNotes Mini...With Music. Found it easy to use, plenty powerful and I like the way it's set up.

If you are thinking of purchasing any of these types of software programs, give OpenOffice a try first. You can find it here:

I am looking for a gently-used portable PA system for my solo gig.

It needs to be light weight since I will be managing it alone. The mixer must accomodate at least one microphone and one guitar. I already have mics, stands and cables.

A Fender PD250 Passport Deluxe Portable PA System is on top of my wish list. It has more than I need, but from what I have read, it's supposed to sound pretty good. That being said, I'll consider any system that is in good condition.
